

CARDINAL GIBBONS CONFERS WITH THE PRESIDENT

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Washington, Sept. 2.—A conference which may have a very great influence on the present European war and the administration's course in Mexico, took place in the historic Blue Room in the White House this afternoon between Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore and President Wilson. And as soon as it was concluded the cardinal proceeded to the state department, where he was closeted for some time with Secretary of State Lansing.

The conferences were shrouded with the utmost secrecy. As a result many rumors, many of which could not be confirmed, were in circulation bearing on the cardinal's visit. The report most generally credited in official circles was that the cardinal had been requested by His Holiness, Pope Benedict, to discuss with the President concerted action on the part of neutral nations and the Vatican to end the war. It also was known that the cardinal has taken a deep personal interest in Mexican affairs as a result of his conferences in New Orleans some weeks ago.

The White House refused positively to throw any light on the visit, while Secretary Lansing said that he could not discuss it. The conference, he said, was at the cardinal's seeking and whatever information that was to be made public must come from him.

The cardinal drove directly to the White House from the rectory of St. Patrick's Church, accompanied by Mr. Russell, Rector of St. Patrick's, who had arranged for the conference. He refused to discuss the reasons for his visit, but said that he might be able to make a statement later in the afternoon.

Cardinal Gibbons brought a message to President Wilson from Pope Benedict, suggesting an organized attempt by neutral nations to bring about peace in Europe. The cardinal communicated the message to the president, who received it with gratification. Later the cardinal saw Secretary Lansing and discussed

The conference between the cardinal and the president lasted only ten minutes. At its conclusion the cardinal went directly to the state department. As he was leaving the White House he said:

"All that I can say at this time is that I discussed the question of trying to arrange peace between the warring nations of Europe. Because of the nature of this discussion it is impossible for me to give any details at this time. It is that His Holiness gave me a message to be delivered to the president.

"The nature of that message as everything that took place in the conference must remain secret for the present.

"I expressed deep gratification to the president because of the happy ending of the difficulties with Germany. I look upon that as a happy outcome of what was an extremely dangerous situation."

It was understood that the pope's suggestion dealt with the advisability of securing concerted action by the Vatican and the various neutral nations to offer mediation to end the war.

Denial was made that any of theelligerents have yet been consulted.

he position of the Vatican, it is understood, is that the war at the present time has resolved itself into a stalemate and that none of the belligerents can win a decisive victory.

In order to prevent the useless slaughter of more millions of men the pope believes the time has arrived for the neutrals to endeavor to arrange a compromise. Today's

STUNNING COSTUME.

Brown Faile Silk Makes Mausome Fall For Furs.

FOR THE AUTUMN MAID.

Why has ultra modish femininity worn furs all summer? No one will ever know, and now the fox has slily crept into the fashionable picture for autumn, and we see him everywhere—in the shop windows and prowling about midday's neck and hanging over her arm in the shape of a muff. Shown here the beautiful color of the fur is an excellent foil against the background of golden brown faile silk, of which the one piece frock is built.

WHO PAYS HER SALARY?

Miss Charlotte Rumbold's Request Refused Because She Is Not a Voter.

Miss Charlotte Rumbold, supervisor of recreation in St. Louis, has been refused a salary by the St. Louis city fathers, has rejected the offer of the women to have her salary made up by donations from the city club and has resigned her position. She believes the workman is worthy of his hire.

She believes that a workwoman is worthy of her hire also—that is, she thinks that salaries should be paid according to the task and not according to the sex of the worker.

She brought the municipal playground and recreation facilities of St. Louis up to their present standard, which is the best of St. Louis. The work has grown from one playground—inspired, by the way, by the Wednesday club of women—to many playgrounds. The first was given on the condition that some woman approved by the Wednesday club be put in charge of it. Now there is an entire system of recreation grounds serving nearly every part of the city.

Miss Rumbold has not taken a vacation since she began work. Recently, however, she asked that her salary "be raised to what it is reasonably worth as measured by salaries paid for similar work in other cities." This the board of aldermen decided it could not do because "Miss Rumbold is not a voter. The taxes of the city are paid by men, not women," said the board and that fact governed it in refusing Miss Rumbold's request.

The women of St. Louis sat up then and began to take notice. They asked each other: "How about this question of taxes? Do we not pay them?" These are some of the things they have found out about themselves:

The state of Missouri has between a third and one-half as many single women paying an income tax as it has single men. "Of the 9,500 married men who pay income taxes, do not their wives share in this payment?" they asked the wives. The wives uttered just one word—"Yes."

St. Louis out of its 350,000 women permits nearly 75,000 to work as wage earners for the increase of its wealth. "Where do these women belong in the city's economic development?" asked the roused St. Louis women.

Out of all the great number of housekeepers in the city who pay taxes indirectly on everything their households eat and wear, who save out of their household budgets for the tax collector's demands, only 947 receive taxes—that is, less than 1,000 housekeepers are counted self supporting.

Now the women of St. Louis are gathering themselves into a Woman Voter league, and it is said that some of St. Louis' biggest women taxpayers will rally to its banner.

Before Miss Rumbold left for New York the town club gathered to bid her farewell. The president of the club, Alma Gibson Robb, called upon the members to come and assure Miss Rumbold of their unqualified approval of her stand on the woman's vote. "As a woman of whom we are proud we bid her goodspeed."

Be Careful.

"We were slowly starving to death," remarked the famous explorer at the boarding house table, "but we cut up our boots and made soup of them and thus sustained life."

"Sh-h-h! Not so loud!" exclaimed the dyspeptic boarder. "The landlady might hear you."—Wisconsin State Journal.

Babies in Pillows.

Babies are carried on, or rather in, long pillows by the peasant women in Hungary. A babe is laid on the pillow, the end is lapped over and is usually long enough to come up to the infant's chin. A string is then tied around the pillow, holding it close about the youngster, thus making a saug and comfortable little bed.

Idiot's Joke.

"My pillow is awfully hard," remarked the star boarder.
"It is stuffed with feathers from a tailor's goose," explained the confirmed idiot as he helped himself to another prune.—Philadelphia Ledger.

Combs.

That combs are of ancient origin is proved by the fact that they were found in the ruins of Pompeii.

Unique Tablecloth.

When a southeast wind is blowing the visitor to Cape Town is treated to a peculiar and interesting natural phenomenon, for under such conditions Table mountain, in the language of the natives, "puts on a tablecloth."

In other words, the thin line of foggy cloud forming above it descends until it rests flat upon the mountain top, with its edges drooping gracefully over its sides. It is really not unlike the article of household use which gives it its name.

Luck.

"I got that chicken for 15 cents a pound," said the young wife proudly.
"Wasn't that luck?"
"Yes," replied her husband, wiping the gravy from his face, "tough luck."
—Houston Post.

Managing John.

"You really must impress upon John the folly of his line of action."
"What's the use? He won't pay the least attention to me. He'll only listen to fools now." (After a short pause.)
"You speak to him."—Exchange.

"Good morning, Mr. H. Your wife made a very pleasant call on us last

"I'm very sorry," came the startling reply. "I'll see that it don't occur future."—London Telegraph.

Italy's Flag.

The Italian national flag is a tricolor composed of green, white and red stripes, with a crown and shield worked into the white portion. It closely resembles the tricolor of France and was intentionally designed with that end in view. Napoleon, when he controlled the destinies of Italy, originated the green, white and red banner so that it should indicate by its close resemblance to the national flag of France
the source to which it owed its existence.

Her Type.

Stella—Is she a good housewife?
Bella—No, you might call her a garage wife.—New York Sun.

A Lesson From a Beggar.

"It was a street beggar who made me feel my insignificance," said former United States Senator Chauncey M.
Depew. "and he did it in a gracious way. I was a trifle out of sorts when I said to him, 'You can't hold me up.'
"Not even as a good example," he replied, lifting his hat."—Tenth's Compauion.

The Rubber Plant in 1735.

The first accurate information regarding the wonderful rubber plant was furnished by La Condamine, a French scientist who was sent in 1735
by the government of France to measure an arc of the meridian near Quito.
This brought him to the heart of the rubber growing country, and much valuable information was thus obtained.

The Vinegar Bible.

A copy of the "Vinegar Bible" may be seen at Newchurch church, Isle of Wight. It is a name given to an edition of the Bible published in 1717 at the Clarendon Press, Oxford. A misprint in the title of the twentieth chapter of St. Luke was made in reading "Parable of the Vinegar" instead of "Parable of the Vineyard."

The Jaw of an Otter.

You can find an example of nature's adaptation of the jaw to use in the case of certain carnivora, like the otter—a big weasel that has acquired aquatic habits. The jaws of such beasts are so fixed in the sockets that dislocation is impossible. In some instances you cannot, even after the animal is dead, separate the jaw from the head. This arrangement is evidently designed to enable the beast to bite to the greatest advantage without danger that the chewing apparatus will come loose.

Remarkable Measuring.

A marvelous instrument is the compound interferometer. With this instrument it is possible to measure a distance as small as one-twenty mil-lionth of an inch. This instrument will in all probability be the most delicate measuring instrument of its kind for many years to come. Some idea can be formed by the use of comparisons. This one-twenty millionth of an inch is the apparent size of the head of an ordinary pin viewed at a distance of 227 miles, or the size of a dime viewed at a distance of 2,000 miles, or the size of a human face viewed at a distance equal to twice the circumference of our mother earth.

ACTIVITY.

There is one principle which ought to be mentioned as a leading peculiarity of human nature. This is the desire of action. A person accustomed to a life of activity longs for ease and retirement and when he has accomplished his purpose finds himself wretched.

Franklin on Fresh Air.
Experience has convinced me of my error. I now look upon fresh air as a friend; I even sleep with an open window. I am persuaded that no common air from without is so unwholesome as the air within a close room, that has been often breathed and not changed. Moist air, too, which formerly I thought pernicious, gives me no apprehensions. You physicians have of late happily discovered that fresh and cool air does good to persons in the smallpox and other fevers. It is to be hoped that in another century or two we may find out that it is not bad even for people in health.—Benjamin Franklin.

Bright Youngster.
"I've been a good boy today, haven't I, mamma?" asked the pride of the household.
"Yes, Richard. You've been a very good boy indeed."
"Aren't you going to call papa up on the phone and tell him about it?"
"Why, no; I haven't thought of it," replied his mother. "Don't you think it will be time enough to tell him when he comes home?"
"Well," said the youngster, "he might want to buy me some candy or something for being good, and I thought we might save him the trouble of going out for it after he gets in the house."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Tainted Money.
Eugene was not accustomed to receiving sums of money coins of a larger denomination than the nickel, and pennies were more familiar. A wealthy relative who was visiting the family and wished to talk over subjects that were not for young ears gave him a quarter and bade him go downtown and spend it. His eyes shone. In the three and a half years of his life he had never had so much money. Then craft entered into his soul. "If I take the money do I have to stay out a long time?" he inquired. On being told that this was expected of him he sadly but firmly returned the money of him the name of the despised station in large letters. It was "Mackenzie."—New York Herald.

A Disguised Compliment.
Sir Alexander Mackenzie, the eminent musical composer, while traveling in Canada some time ago, had an amusing and remarkable experience. Suddenly his train pulled up at a little way side station, and he and the other passengers were told that something was wrong on the line and that they must wait at least nine hours.
"Nine hours in this hole of a place?" exclaimed Sir Alexander. "Away from all civilization! How I hate its very name! What is its name by the way?" Putting his head out of the carriage window, he saw on a board in front of him the name of the despised station in large letters. It was "Mackenzie."—New York Herald.

Notable Examples of How You Profit Now by Our Anticipation—

Household Linens

Are Being Sold To-day for Practically the Same Prices as a Year Ago—

There is scarcely a store in the United States that has not in the past year advanced their prices on Household Linens at least 20 per cent, and from that up to 35 per cent. This has not been done to increase profits, but simply because the Linen industry is at a standstill in Europe (where the majority of Household Linens are manufactured) and these goods cannot be procured except at enormous advances.

The VanWagenen Store is one of the very few that HAS NOT INCREASED PRICES because our large purchases and contracts were made at the first intimation of the likelihood of a shortage, at the prices then prevailing.

SUBURBAN NEWS.

On Tuesday evening Miss Charlotte Hadinhorst of Brookside Cottage gave a farewell party to her friends. Miss Hadinhorst, whose home is in Brooklyn, with her parents has been spending the summer months here and expects to leave in a few days. The rooms were tastefully decorated with golden red and golden glow. Many games were played but dancing seemed to be the favorite amusement. After the refreshments, which were plentiful had been disposed of our musician again struck up one of his good old tunes and soon everybody's feet were keeping time to it until it was time to bid their hostess pleasant dreams for that morning. Those present were Misses Edna and Emma Heiser, Jessie DeWitt, Blanche Rowe, Selena Kallaway, Anantatia McCarthy, Charlotte Hadinhorst, Mrs. E. Fagher and Mr. and Mrs. Hadinhorst, Ernest and Robert Wirth, Thomas Rowe, Rudolph Brerdorfer, Richard DeWitt, Edward Woods, Samuel Kallaway, Joseph McCarthy.

SUCCESS OF FIRST APPLE AUCTION

Fruit in Orchards at Red Hook Sold at $2.25 to $3.25 a Barrel in First Auction Ever Held.

The first sale of apples conducted under the direction of the New York State Department of Agriculture was held at Upper Red Hook Wednesday. There were about two hundred persons present, including a score of speculators from New York. This sale is expected to fix the prices for apples in New York state this year. The sale was conducted by Harry Van Buren, representing the State Department of Agriculture.

The sale was held on the farm of William Teator, after all the orchards in the neighborhood had been inspected. The apples on the Teator farm were of the first. Bidding started at $2 a barrel. It finally went to $3.12 1/2 a barrel. The owner refused to sell at this price and he bid the whole crop in at $3.25.

From the H. G. Eiler orchard were sold 650 barrels of Baldwins and 600 barrels of other varieties. Graded A and B, Grade A stock sold at $3.25 a barrel and grade B at $2.25. The orchard of Thomas Cookingham also was sold.

There were about six hundred barrels sold for $2.75. Others were sold around the same price. It was practically settled that the very best grades of apples were worth $3.25, the prices obtained in the sale of the Eiler farm.

Another Secret Caucus.

Another secret caucus, the usual thing this year with the local Democrats, will be held Friday evening behind locked doors at the city hall when it is expected that the committee on mayor will be able to report that they have at last found some one willing to be the "goat." The committee's search, for a candidate has been a strenuous one and in its pursuit of the elusive goat practically every prominent Democrat in the city has been seen and an attempt made to induce him to run but without success. "I guess the committee together with the party leaders have seen about one hundred men all told but not a one of the hundred was willing to be offered a sacrifice," said one of the prominent Democrats of the city this morning. The reason why Democrats are unwilling this year to accept the candidacy for mayor is due to the fact that no matter who is put up on the Democratic ticket he is facing sure defeat and of course they cannot be blamed for not wanting to make a sacrifice for the sake of having the party place a candidate in the field.

Moran Business School.

Prof. R. I. Fish arrived from New York Tuesday evening to take the principalship of the Moran Business School, and assumed his duties September 1. This arrangement will enable Prof. John J. Moran, the founder and proprietor of the school, to give more time to general supervision and to individual instruction in bookkeeping, business practice, office training and to students in the several departments. Professor Fish has been connected with some of the largest business schools of the country, having just finished a three year engagement with the Wood's Schools of New York city, where he had the principalship of the commercial department. He has also taught in Philadelphia, Trenton and other large cities, having a teaching experience covering twenty years. He owned and managed a large school in Michigan for nearly ten years and, in fact, knows the business as few men do. The work of Prof. Fish cannot fail to leave a decided impression upon the educational life of the community.

In Recorder's Court.

Peter Emory, a stranger, wandered into town on Wednesday to have a tooth pulled. He got up courage for the ordeal by taking on several drinks of booze and continued to renew his courage after the operation was over. Policeman Fout arrested him for public intoxication. He was arraigned this morning, but was discharged with a reprimand.

William Hafer was arrested on Wednesday on the charge of stealing wire belonging to the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company and Barney Millens and Jacob Basch were charged with receiving stolen goods in buying the stuff from Hafer. Some agreement was reached after the case was called and the complaint was withdrawn.

Arrested for Burglary.

Howard Traught was brought to jail about midnight Wednesday from Port Jervis to await trial for petit larceny. He will be arraigned before Justice McKenzia this afternoon on the charge of entering the store of Merritt Avery and taking $1.48 besides a large quantity of merchandise. He was brought to jail by Mr. Avery and Deputy Sheriff Edward Murphy.

Automobile Hits Policeman.

Policeman James E. Welch is confined to his home on East Chester street with a badly wrenched leg, the result of being hit by an automobile. ## NEW Post Toasties are made of selected white corn by a new process that brings the fragrance of the sunny corn fields to your table.

Notice the little puffs on every flake, put there by the unique methods of cooking and toasting. It's the only method that gives you the full, rich corn flavour.

To test the taste, try a handful of Toasties direct from the package, without cream or milk. Here are flakes that don't depend upon cream and sugar for flavour.

BRIDGE REPORTED BLOWN UP BY BRITISH SUBMARINE.

It is reported that a British submarine has blown up a portion of the famous Galata bridge, which spans the Golden Horn at its point of junction with the Bosphorus, and connects Stamboul and Galata, two of the most important sections of Constantinople. To reach the bridge the submarine must have come through the Sea of Marmora and the western end of the Bosphorus, sailing completely around Stamboul and entering the very heart of the waterway.

KINGSTONIAN BOILERS

A Coal Saver

When you want to boil water quickly to poach an egg for breakfast, you don't put the water in a deep, narrow-bottomed kettle. Not a bit of it. You get a big, broad-bottomed pan and put a little water in it, and it boils almost while you are cracking the egg.

The Kingstonian Boiler acts just like that broad-bottomed pan does.

If you could pull out straight the fuses over the fire you would have just twice as big a flat surface.

That's one reason why it heats quicker and with less coal than other boilers.

Because it saves coal, we sell it. Because it saves coal, you should buy it.

Let's talk it over together.

The interrogation mark or "poth" (it was originally a "q" and an "o," the latter placed under the former. They were simply the first and last letters of the Latin word "questio." So, too, with the sign of exclamation or interjection (!). In its original part it was a combination of "i" and "o," the latter underneath, as in the question mark. The two stood for "i" the Latin exclamation of joy. The paragraph mark is a Greek "p," the initial of the word paragraph. The very printers employed a dagger to show that a word or sentence was objectionable and should be cut out.—London Chronicle.

A Wall Street Problem.
Pedestrians on Wall street on Wednesday afternoon rubbed their eyes and then gazed again at a charming young uptown lady passing them. The explanation was simple—she was wearing a tan stocking on one foot and a black one on the other. The question that is now troubling those who saw her is whether she was showing the very latest style in hosiery, or whether she had gotten her stockings mixed by mistake, or again if she was obliged to wear two different colors because the stockings that matched had holes in them and she had not had time to repair the damage with needle and thread. The men were too embarrassed to ask and the ladies made a note of the new style.

Improvement to the appearance of Grand street.

An Island Wilderness.
Andros island, among the Bahamas, is ninety miles in length and twenty to forty miles in breadth, and most of its extensive area has never been explored. It is an unbroken wilderness, inhabited solely by about 3,500 negroes. It has great forests, seldom penetrated by white men, but no real effort has been made to exploit its resources.

Dante's Fierce Retort.
The secret of Dante's struggle through life was in the reckless sarcasm of his answer to the Prince of Verona, who asked him how he could account for the fact that in the household of princes the court fool was in greater favor than the philosopher. "Similarity of mind," said the fierce genius, "is all the world over the source of friendship."

Easiest to Learn.
The trouble is that a man learns how to spend money long before he learns how to make it.

Houses in Japan.

Children have a good time in Japan. They are blessed by inheritance with a cheerful nature: they are dressed loosely, yet warmly; they are out of doors as much as possible, and inside their homes there is so little furniture they never stumble over it and are never warned against crawling up on the satin brocade chairs or handling the bric-a-brac. The houses are always open to sun and air, even in cold weather. They are built dovetailed together, no nails being used, and are mounted on wooden pillars, so that when an earthquake occurs they will not tumble down, but merely shake and settle down again.

Anyway, He Wasn't.

"Own up, now. Who's the head of your family?"
"My wife used to be," admitted Mr. Enpeck, "but since my daughters are grown up we have a commission form of government."—Exchange.

Coltsfoot Leaves.

The smoking of dried coltsfoot leaves antedated the introduction of tobacco in England.

Court Trains.

At the coronation of Queen Adelaide that lady's train tore itself away from the bodice, taking part of the latter with it. When Elizabeth of Austria entered Paris to marry Charles IX, her train was seventy feet long and greatly admired by the people. Elizabeth of Valois wore a train six yards long, which was carried after her by gentlemen as she danced. Mary, queen of Scots, is said to have worn a twelve yard train at balls, also carried by a gentleman.—Fall Mall Magazine.

The Best She Could Do.

"We've got to cut down our expenses," said Woody. "We are living in a style that makes everybody think my income must be twice as big as it is."
"Well," his wife replied, "what more do you want, seeing that there is no chance for you to double your income?"—Chicago Herald.

Money.

"After all, money amounts to very little." "Yes, but in the meantime it amounts to a great deal."—Puck.

THE INSPECTION IN FRENCH ARMY.

RIGID SHOE INSPECTION IN FRENCH ARMY.

Napoleon said that "an army fights on its belly," but other portions of the anatomy are not neglected by the French. Here is shown one of the periodical shoe inspections which is strictly adhered to by all the French armies in the field. Every two or three weeks, each soldier's boots are carefully inspected, and if they are so worn as to cause foot trouble, a new pair is issued to the soldier.

SEPTEMBER 2

You will find the character of the person born today upright, trustworthy and dependable. The fault will be a peculiar sensitivity of nature that makes such a person hard to understand. However, by appealing to either pity or love they can be reached when argument fails. The mind of this person tends to material things. There is a love for the good things of life. The appetite is healthy, endurance strong and a generally harmonious life is assured by this gift of nature. The birthstone is a pink jasper. There is self reliance and a strong will power. Balance on hand to the credit of the Federation ..... $355.07
Balance on hand to the credit of the Day Nursery fund ..... 263.04
Balance on hand to the credit of the Visiting Nurse fund, 37.00

The first report to be given was that of Mrs. MacMillan, the social worker of the Federation, for the months of June, July and August, which was as follows:

"During June, 1915, in co-operation with public officials and various churches and organizations, 16 families were cared for in different ways. Only six of these families received material help. Three wives were enabled to get support from their husbands, through free legal advice. Others were helped by obtaining employment and other social service was given.

"During July, 1915, the same number of families were assisted. Eleven of these sixteen families were new ones, and five were carried over from June. In three families insanity of one of the members of the family caused the trouble requiring aid. The insane persons are now being well cared for in the state hospital.

"During August, 1915, fifteen families were cared for, nine of whom were new families. Five of these needed help because of illness. One little girl was provided with a nurse and now is much better and doubtless will recover. Five widows and families are being looked after from month to month. We hope that this group will in a comparatively short time be cared for through the Child Welfare Committee.

"During June, the Day Nursery gave 62 days' care. The nursery was closed during July and a part of August. It opened again on August 16 and 32 days' care has been given.

"For the past three months many days' work has been secured for women and also a few steady jobs for men. A general oversight has been given to families who have been helped last winter, so that their condition is known. They have been encouraged to save for the coming winter.

In addition to this official report, Mrs. MacMillan spoke of the value of free legal advice which had been given at different times, making the rehabilitation work in certain homes more possible. She also showed the demoralizing effect of an insane member of a family upon the entire family, morally, mentally and physically, together with the natural hesitation on the part of families not educated in such matters, to send the afflicted member to an insane hospital. In conclusion Mrs. MacMillan spoke of the crying need of the widows' pension matter before the legislature.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Telegraph to "The Freeman".

New York, Sept. 2.—There was vigorous buying of stocks this morning and substantial advances were made in all the active issues. General Motors made the greatest gain, advancing 7 1/2 points to 248, followed by upturns ranging from 1 to 3 points in numerous other issues. The report of additional war orders made Crucible Steel one of the most prominent features, and buying forced its price up two points to 84 1/2. New York Central rose a point to 93 1/2. Colorado Fuel attracted a good deal of attention because of persistent purchasing, rising 1 1/2 to 45 1/2, the highest price touched in several years. There was a wide opening in 2,500 shares at 76 to 76 1/2, against 75 1/2, at the close yesterday, and immediately after the opening as in demand at 76 1/2. Tennessee Copper jumped 1 1/2 to 58 and American Can rose 3/4 to 60 1/4.

After the first fifteen minutes the market yielded under heavy foreign selling, which was the largest in New York Central, Union Pacific, U. S. Steel Common, Anaconda and Erie. Foreign houses also were sellers of many bonds. This selling was directly reflected in an advance of 4 cents in demand sterling. Some specialties, which had been strong, reacted sharply. Crucible Steel yielded 3 points, New York Central dropped a point, and Tennessee Copper reacted to 58 1/2. In the late forenoon, however, a better tone was evident and a number of issues recovered their early losses. American Beet Sugar was prominent, moving up 2 1/2 to 63. Baldwin Locomotive rose 1 1/2 to 83 1/2. Colorado Fuel 2 to 45 1/2, and substantial fractional gains were noted in Crucible Steel, New York Central, Republic Iron and Steel and Reading. Call money is loaning at 1 1/2 per cent.

Many advances were made in the afternoon with most of the interest attached to war order stocks. Crucible Steel rose to 88 1/2. New York Air Brake advanced 5 points to 152 and Bethlehem Steel rose 2 1/2 to 292 1/2. Third Avenue advanced 2 1/2 to 53 1/2. American Can also showed a strong tone, moving up over a point. Union Pacific rallied 3/4 to 129.

The stock market closed irregular. Government bonds unchanged; others heavy.

FRANK SNYDER.

SNYDER: GREATEST CATCHER IN THE GAME.

Frank Snyder, the sensational catcher of the St. Louis Nationals, is regarded as the best backstop in the game today. He is batting like a demon and has played his position behind the bat like a marvel all season.

Snyder was born 22 years ago in San Antonio, Texas, and learned baseball on the sand lots and school yards of that city. At that time he was a pitcher and third baseman. He played his first professional game as third baseman for the Victoria team in the Southern Texas League in 1910. After five games he was released and went back to work in a San Antonio drug store. The following year he played with the Floraville, Tex., team, but the league blew up in a few months. In 1912, he was signed by the Flint team in the South Michigan League, where he received his first experience behind the bat. Dick Kissella saw him work and purchased him for $200. It is said Snyder reported to the Cardinals in the fall of 1912, but with Bresnahan and Wingo as first string catcher received little chance. The next spring he was sent to the Springfield team in the Central League, but the following year, 1914, he continued with him and was soon ousted Wingo as first string catcher.

MRS. MARY LOGAN TUCKER.

LOGAN'S DAUGHTER WOULD HAVE WAR CAMP FOR WOMEN.

Washington, Sept. 2.—The novel suggestion has been made by Mrs. Mary Logan Tucker, daughter of Gen. John A. Logan, that a woman's camp, conducted on the general plan of the business men's camp at Plattsburg, be held in October at some central location under the auspices of the women's section of the Navy League as a practical object lesson in women's interest and part in national preparedness.

First aid, signalling, making bandages and other war supplies and even instruction in the use of small arms is suggested by Mrs. Tucker.

The women's section of the Navy League will take up Mrs. Tucker's suggestion and probably act upon it. Both Mrs. Tucker and her mother, Mrs. John A. Logan, are enthusiastic members of the Navy League.

MENKE'S DAILY SPORTING LETTER

(By Frank G. Menke.)

New York, Sept. 2.—How about the fight fans organizing for the purpose of protection?

The promoters recently organized primarily for the purpose of protecting themselves from the onslaughts of the money-mad battlers. And now the battlers are organizing to fight the promoters organization.

The fans ought to rally now and form an organization that will bring about major league battling at juney prices.

Who's the Moves?

Can You Beat This One?

The funniest baseball yarn? Well, how about this one, related by outfielder Bill Spears, of the Portland (Ore.) team.
"It happened in 1906," asserts Bill. "I was playing with the Columbus, Ohio, team against the Mansfield, Ohio, outfit. Mansfield had two men on bases. The batter fouled off the first ball along the right field foul line. The umpire quickly threw in another and the batter shot another foul toward right field. Another ball was put into play by the umpire and the batter sent it zipping through the infield and out to me in left."

"I caught the ball on a bound and headed it in. It went wild and hit the grandstand. In the meantime the rightfielder had recovered both foul balls and had thrown them to the infield. Our firstbaseman grabbed one and started chasing down the batter between first and second. Our shortstop grabbed the other ball and chased after the runner who was trying to go to third. Meanwhile, our catcher, having recovered my throw of the ball hit, raced toward the home plate in an effort to overhaul the other baserunner who was trying to score; while our pitcher, who was covering the plate howled at him to throw the ball."

A $5,600 Blunder.

A gent named Jack McGinnis bought a horse named The Grader in one of the selling races at the Saratoga (N. Y.) meeting. McGinnis owned the horse 21 hours and then a "wise one" whispered in his ear that The Grader wasn't of much account. McGinnis paid $1,400 for the horse—a large sum for a "no-account" horse. So a few hours later when the former owner of The Grader offered McGinnis his $1,400 back for the horse McGinnis promptly accepted.

The very next day The Grader was entered in a race—and won it with ease. The purse amounted to about $1,000. Three days later The Grader won another race, with a $1,000 purse attached. And since then the owner of the horse has turned down an offer of $5,000 for his animal. In other words it cost McGinnis $5,000 in purses and $5,600 in increased horse flesh value to listen to the "wise one."

Darcy Was a Blacksmith.

Les Darcy, the Australian, who landed a sleep punch upon the jaw of Eddie McGoorty, is only 19 years old. He used to be a blacksmith, but quit his job about a year ago when friends convinced him that a great future was in store for him in the fighting game.

Darcy's first real ring encounter took place last January. His rise in the pugilistic game has been meteoric. He is regarded as a born fighter and Australians predict that he will rank soon as the greatest middleweight battler of all time.

Inevitable Difference.

"My husband's ideas and mine are so different," sighed the young woman. "Well," replied her mother, thoughtfully, "the ideas of men and women are bound to differ. A woman can't see the sense in a box of cigars that nobody can wear, and a man has no respect for a new hat that you can't smoke."

Labor Day Excursion.

Steamer Gardner will leave Rondout for Poughkeepsie Monday, September 6, at 8 a. m.; also at 12:45 and from Kingston. Point at 1 p. m. Fare for the round trip, 25 cents. Advertisement.

Paint Better

Better isn't enough; paint best. A man bought "cheap" paint; saved 20c or 30c or 40c or 50c a gallon, didn't he?

Yes, and bought 40 or 50 or 60 or 80 per cent more gallons; how much did he make on his paint?

And he paid for painting those gallons a fair day's work is a gallon—how much did he make on the labor part of his job?

He lost a quarter or third of his money.

How long will it last? Not his money, the paint.

Perhaps half as long as Devco. How long will his money last, if he buys other stuff as he bought that paint?

Better buy the best paint; it makes too least half and last-often. DEVCO.

M. H. Herroge sells it—Advertisement.

Plutarch, Sept. 2.—John Van Nost, of this place and Mrs. Richard Bilyou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bilyou of Esopus, were married at the home of the groom on Thursday evening, August 26. The Rev. William Austin of the Methodist Church of Esopus performed the ceremony in the presence of about thirty relatives and friends. The bride looked charming in a gown of white. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Palmateer of New Paltz. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served. They will reside in this place, where the groom is engaged in the chicken business and fruit raising. They have a number of friends who extend to them hearty congratulations. This is the sixth wedding in this place within a year and still there is more to follow.

Macedonian Opium Seat.

Macedonia grows the richest opium of all countries. The export of crude opium from the Saloniki district to this country ranks second to tobacco in value. The product is used solely in the manufacture of morphine and is not the quality used for smoking.

Harmony in Fashion.
An up-to-date sartorial authority announces that a man's tie ought to match his hair. By a strict adherence to this rule a good many would have to wear a shoestring for a tie.—Providence Bulletin.

The First "Lady in Trade."
Perhaps the most notable instance on record of the female street trader is that of the "white widow," otherwise the Duchess of Tyrone, the Frances Jennings of the De Grammont memoirs who at the time of the revolution in 1688, according to Horace Walpole, "being reduced to absolute want on her arrival in England and unable for some time to procure secret access to her family, hired one of the stable under the Royal Exchange and maintaining herself by the sale of small articles of haberdashery. She wore a white dress wrapping her whole person and a white mask, which she never removed, and excited much interest and curiosity."—London Chronicle.

Art.
Nobody has yet been able to define art correctly, because every conception of art differs with the individual. Nobody really knows what truth is, yet art is said to be truth plus personality. Personality itself is our most incomprehensible enigma.
Art must possess a supreme and constantly increasing interest. The best and most unflinching test of art is when it endures. Time, therefore, is necessary to proclaim it. All masterpieces turned out overnight are not to be trusted.
The true artist is, therefore, most likely to be unknown. Time crowns him master with one hand and destroys him with the other.—Life.

Derivation of the Language.
Sixty per cent of English words are of Teutonic origin, 30 per cent are Greek and Latin and 10 per cent come from other sources.

Daily Thought.
A lie always has a certain amount of weight with those who wish to believe it.—Rice.

Piano Strings.
Supplanting the hard, high tension strand of old, the piano wire in demand today for the highest grade instrument is tough and fibrous and of absolute uniformity, and when cut it shows a clean white steel.

The piano makers have, by actual test, been brought to see that the softer wire has the greater artistic merit. The latter vibrates so evenly throughout, when actuated by the proper degree of energy, that a true fundamental tone results, with just enough of the octave to impart brilliancy, of the fifth to impart timbre and of the third and sixth to impart richness, and will be amplified by the sounding board.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Turtles and Tortoises.
About three hundred species of turtles and tortoises are known. Some of these attain a very large size.
